

Pre- Emancipation at the Ministry of Public Security

The bustling of Artistic Dresses, Magnificent Head Wraps, and Dashikis was what a Pre-Emancipation day looked like at the Ministry of Public Security, as staff decked out in their African attire. Exuberance was the spirit of the day as discussions filled the air about the meaning and origin of the various pieces and how they fitted well on staff members. Fashion was certainly evident as the day was surely filled with freedom and liberation which equals emancipation.

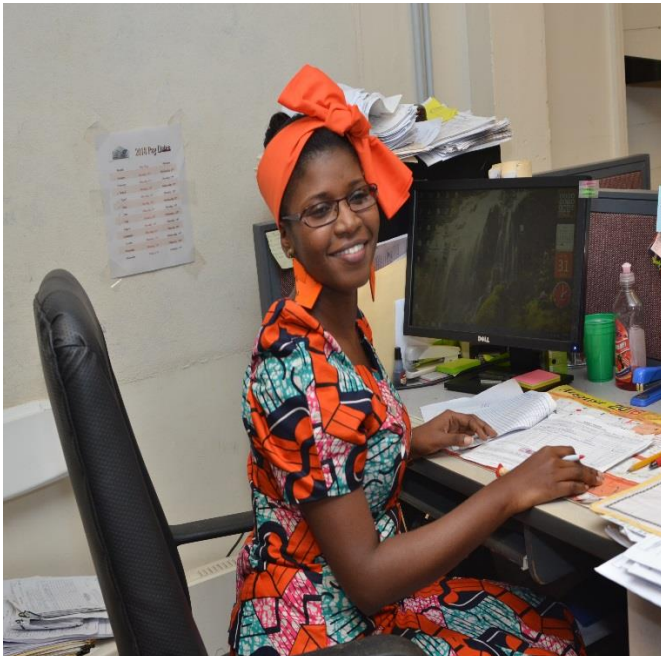

Happy Pre-Emancipation to all of Guyana from the Ministry of Public Security

Ministry of Public Security Staff Pre- Emancipation Wear

Pre- Emancipation at the Ministry of Public Security

Pre- Emancipation at the Ministry of Public Security

Pre- Emancipation at the Ministry of Public Security